

Ane Compendious Booke

Scots wis yaised tae spread the Christian gospel in Scotland in a popular wey throu sang. Exisitn melodies an ballads that war weel-kent by fowk haed their wirts chinged tae scriptural verse in Scots.

Originally imprentit in 1567 an kened as 'The Dundee Psalms', 'The Gude and Godly Ballatis', wir eventually collectit in 'Ane Compendious Booke of Godlie and Spirituelle Sangs'.

The Dundee Psalms wir attributed mainly tae brithers John, James an Robert Wedderburn.

Ye can answer the follaein questions in English or Scots.

How come the scribevers o Ane Compendious Booke didnae jist mak new melodies fir their Scots scriptural verses?
Why dae ye think these scriptural verses war scribed in Scots an no English?
The Dundee Psalms war originally imprentit in 1567 an reprentit in 1897. Why dae ye think they war sae popular fir sic a lang time?

Hae a leuk at 'The Sang o Mary' PDF on the Church of Scotland wabsite at: http://www.churchofscotland.org.uk/_data/assets/pdf_file/0015/3570/advent_sang_mary.pdf Why dae ye think these adaptit sangs fae 'Ane Compendious Booke' are aye yaised in some Scottish kirks the day?
Dae ye ken o ony modren sangs - in ony leid -that hiv spiritual or releegious wirds?	